

Recommended Resources Referenced During the xMinds Webinar: Disability Is Not a Dirty Word, Jan. 19, 2022

Resources for Learning

Welcome to the Autistic Community: <https://autismacceptance.com>

Lives Worth Living

Documentary: <https://www.pbs.org/independentlens/documentaries/lives-worth-living/>

Crip Camp Documentary: <https://cripcamp.com>

Anthology of writings from autistic trans people: <https://www.ubcpres.ca/spectrums>

Parents' Place of Maryland (PPMD) is the Parent Training and Information Center (PTI) in Maryland: <https://www.ppmd.org/>

"Partners in Policymaking," a year-long advocacy program for parents and self-advocates offered by The Arc: <http://www.thearcmd.org/partners/>

Mentoring/training in the workplace, MITRE Neurodiverse Federal Workforce Pilot Program based in McLean, VA: <https://nfw.mitre.org/>

Organizations for autistic individuals to connect socially or get involved in advocacy

AAGW (Autistics Association of Greater Washington), social group for local autistic adults: <https://aagw.net/>

People on the Go -- social group for people with intellectual disabilities; big range of people attend; good for people interested in policy and social change: <https://www.peopleonthegomaryland.com/>

Autistic Women & Nonbinary Network (AWN), social groups for women and gender minorities: <https://awnnetwork.org/>

DC Peers for teens and young adults: <https://www.dcpeers.org/>